The eponymous estate, which includes a pre-Romanesque chapel from the 9th century, Casa Vella, Can Torres and Can Rius properties make up the majority of the vineyards owned by the Juvé & Camps family. Together they comprise a total of 500 acres that offer exceptional conditions: calcareous clay soils, elevations ranging from 180 to 245 metres above sea level, and a Mediterranean microclimate, shielded from cold northerly winds by the Montserrat mountain range and surrounding valleys. The landscape is extraordinarily beautiful and ideally suited to grow traditional varieties like Macabeu and Xarel·lo, although noble grapes like Chardonnay and Pinot Noir also thrive in this region as well.
